OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Smelling Salt Novelties.
The woman who like sweet odors almost always likes smelling salts. The newer ones are packed into bottles of charming shapes. Some of them have very elaborate stoppers—as, indeed, all the perfume bottles do, too. Wide fan-shaped stoppers are one of the novelties.
Geranium, colored rose, is one of the popular smelling salts odors at the moment.
There are also very attractive sachets covered with chiffon or very fine net, containing an interesting combination of flower odors. The foundation for this is sweet lavender, and there are roses and violet leaves, and spices and oils, so that the combination is something on the order of pot-pourri. And, of course, all this sweetness is visible through the very sheer covering.

For New Sleeves.
Now that sleeves are coming to mean so much in fashion, a pattern for new sleeves means a good deal to those who have old frocks to be remodeled. Such a pattern can be had for the new bishop sleeves, three-quarter lengths and three full length. The longer ones have long, fitted cuffs and two models show shirring at the top that holds the sleeves in close to the arm.
